1. Qualitative Information on the Consolidated Financial Results for the Three Months Ended June 30, 2023

(1) Qualitative data on the consolidated financial results

During the first three months under review, the Japanese economy continued to experience a moderate recovery in consumer spending, reflecting the normalization of economic activity. In North America and Europe, consumer spending remained firm due partly to increases in wages and employment, despite growing concern over an economic recession linked to inflation and rising interest rates. Asia saw sluggish consumer spending in the Chinese market, where an economic recovery had been expected following the lifting of strict activity restrictions. Meanwhile, the recoveries in other Asian regions were only moderate due to the lack of momentum in exports and weak demand for capital spending.

In this environment, the Citizen Group's consolidated results for the first three months of the fiscal year under review showed an increase in sales with net sales of 72.6 billion yen (up 1.9 % year on year), aided mainly by the solid performance of Watches, one of its core businesses. However, operating profit decreased 0.9% year on year, to 5.5 billion yen. Ordinary profit and profit attributable to owners of parents declined to 8.0 billion yen (down 6.5% year on year) and 6.2 billion yen (down 13.5% year on year), respectively

Watches

In the domestic market, sales of Citizen brand watches increased, reflecting solid consumer spending as indicated by the strong performance of core brands such as Attesa and Promaster and the gradual recovery of inbound tourism-related demand, despite a decline in consumer confidence linked to price increases.

Looking at overseas markets, the North American market showed signs of weakness in sales for distribution such as jewelry chain stores and department stores amid growing uncertainty about the future because the rate of price increases still remained high. Even so, sales were on par with the previous year, reflecting the consistent performance of online sales and sales for tourism-related distribution. The European market suffered significant price increases. Despite this, sales climbed due to the solid performance recorded mainly in the UK and Italy, as well as the acquisition of new clients in France. The Asian market performed better than the previous year, reflecting the upswing of business in Hong Kong and Singapore attributable to a recovery in the flow of people, as well as a gradual recovery in China although this recovery was limited.

Sales of Bulova brand watches were at the level of the previous year. This was attributable to, in the mainstay North American market, the cultivation of new sales channels including online sales and sales for tourism-related distribution offsetting weak sales for main distribution channels such as jewelry chain stores.

Sales of movements decreased, reflecting weak demand for mechanical movements primarily due to a decline in the Chinese market, as well as slow sales of analog quartz movements due to concerns about a recession in the North American and European markets.

As a result, notwithstanding concerns about a decline in consumer confidence linked to the long-term price increases occurring globally, thanks to the progress made in initiatives for the enhancement of sales of global brands, premium brands and mechanical watches, the watches segment as a whole posted an increase in sales, with net sales of 37.0 billion yen (up 5.5% year on year). Operating profit increased 4.8% year on year, to 4.5 billion yen, mainly reflecting the contribution of increased net sales and the ongoing efforts to improve profitability.

Machine Tools

Sales decreased slightly in the domestic market, reflecting signs of a slowdown in the demand for semiconductors and pneumatic- and hydraulic-related equipment, sales of which had been solid, as well as sluggish sales of automobile-related products. Sales in overseas markets decreased, reflecting continuing sluggish market conditions in China even after China ended its zero-COVID policy and a decline in other Asian markets, although sales related to medical equipment in particular remained solid in Europe and the Americas amid a stance toward capital expenditure that overall is growing more cautious.

As a result, net sales in the machine tools segment as a whole decreased to 19.5 billion yen (down 2.2% year on year). Operating profit fell to 2.3 billion yen (down 13.4% year on year).

Devices and Components

In precision components, sales of automotive parts decreased due to sluggish market conditions, although car manufacturers' production was trending toward a recovery. Sales of small motors rose, reflecting market recoveries in a broad range of areas including medical products. However, sales of crystal devices decreased, reflecting sluggish demand growth in demand in the personal computer and IoT markets. As a result, sales decreased in precision components as a whole.

In opto-devices, sales of chip LEDs decreased, reflecting a decline in sales of LEDs for lighting due to the delay in the recovery of demand for in-vehicle LEDs and the control of capital expenditures mainly in Europe and the United States, which offset solid sales of chip LEDs for game consoles.

As a result, net sales in the devices and components segment as a whole decreased to 10.8 billion yen (down 1.0% year on year) and operating profit stood at 0 billion yen (compared with operating loss of 0 billion yen in the same period of the previous year).

Electronic and Other Products

In information equipment, the recovery of demand was weak due to the deterioration of the market environment outlook, resulting in the sluggish growth of POS printers and bar code printers. Even so, sales increased, reflecting strong sales of photo printers due to the growth of demand for events. Sales of healthcare products decreased, mainly reflecting a decline in demand for thermometers as a result of the reduced impact of COVID-19 and the reduced number of blood pressure monitors sold which is linked to price increases. As a result, the electronic and other products segment overall recorded decreases in sales and profit, with net sales of 5.2 billion yen (down 0.7% year on year) and operating profit of 0.1 billion yen (down 56.8% year on year).

(2) Qualitative data on the consolidated financial position

Total assets at the end of the first three months under review stood at 402.3 billion yen, an increase of 12.4 billion yen from the end of the previous consolidated fiscal year. Current assets decreased 5.3 billion yen mainly due to a decrease of 6.1 billion yen in cash and deposits, offsetting an increase in inventories of 9.8 billion yen. Non-current assets increased 7.0 billion yen, mainly reflecting rises of 2.9 billion yen in investment securities and 2.2 billion yen in leased assets.

Liabilities totaled 167.3 billion yen, an increase of 10.1 billion yen from the end of previous consolidated fiscal year, mainly reflecting increases of 2.1 billion yen in lease liabilities, 1.8 billion yen in provision for bonuses, and 1.8 billion yen in notes and accounts payable - trade.

Net assets increased 2.2 billion yen from the end of the previous consolidated fiscal year, to 235.0 billion yen. This result chiefly reflected a decrease of 10.9 billion yen in shareholders' equity due to the purchase of treasury shares and payment of dividends amounting to 12.3 billion yen and 4.9 billion yen, respectively, and an increase of 10.3 billion yen in the foreign currency translation adjustment, as well as the posting of profit attributable to owners of parent.

Both retained earnings and treasury shares decreased due to the cancellation of treasury shares amounting to 39.1 billion yen.

(3) Qualitative data on the consolidated earnings forecasts
