1. OVERVIEW OF OPERATING RESULTS AND FINANCIAL POSITION

(1) Overview of Operating Results for the Six Months Ended September 30, 2025

During the interim consolidated accounting period under review, the Japanese economy was stagnant in some sectors due in part to rising commodity prices. At the same time, consumer spending recovered moderately due to the impact of the Japan-US agreement on US tariff policy and wage increases. In the North American economy, consumer spending remained solid despite increased inflationary pressure largely due to the pass-through of tariffs via prices. While the European economy was supported by stable income conditions, consumer spending remained weak primarily due to a slowdown in manufacturing industry as a result of the full-scale impact of the US tariff policy. In the Asian economy, the effect of efforts to stimulate consumption through subsidies and other policies in China decreased and the consumer spending recovery in other Asian countries also lacked strength due to the uncertainty of domestic and international political and economic conditions.

In this environment, the consolidated operating results for the first six months of the fiscal year under review indicated strong performance, mainly of the Watches and Machine Tools segments, resulting in net sales of 159.2 billion yen (up 1.7% year on year). Operating profit increased to 12.9 billion yen (up 5.3% year on year). Ordinary profit increased to 16.1 billion yen (up 32.0% year on year) partly due to increased foreign exchange gains, and profit attributable to owners of parent decreased to 11.8 billion yen (down 3.3% year on year) due to the inclusion of custom duties for prior periods and provision for custom duties for prior periods.

Watches

Looking at watch sales in the domestic market for the CITIZEN brands, sales of the high-end models of ATTESA were weak and demand from foreign visitors in Japan fell short of expectations, despite solid sales of xC, a women's watch brand, and the premium brand, The CITIZEN. This resulted in a decrease in net sales.

Looking at the overseas markets, in North America, sales through travel distribution channels remained strong in addition to leading distribution channels such as department stores and jewelry retail chains due to the growth in the sales of global sub-brands such as PROMASTER and ATTESA, while sales via in-house e-commerce also grew significantly, resulting in revenue growth. In Europe, sales remained strong and sales of PROMASTER, a global sub-brand, grew, which resulted in revenue growth. In Asia, revenue declined. While markets in Thailand and India remained strong, China and other markets in Asia experienced continued sluggishness.

With the success of the marketing strategy involving the 150th anniversary of the BULOVA brand, sales of BULOVA brand watches increased substantially in the mainstay North American market thanks to strong sales via in-house e-commerce and sales at department stores and jewelry retail chains, which are leading distribution channels.

Regarding movements, sales of analog quartz movements remained solid and sales of mechanical movements grew in each market, leading to revenue growth.

As a result, net sales from the overall Watches segment increased to 89.3 billion yen (up 4.2% year on year) thanks to efforts to increase brand value and improve high value-added products despite a limited recovery in consumer confidence stemming from uncertainty about the future. Operating profit increased to 11.7 billion yen (up 21.9% year on year), chiefly due to increases in the ratio of in-house e-commerce and unit selling prices, in addition to growth in net sales in North America.

Machine Tools

Sales decreased mainly due to sluggish sales of automotive products and a slowdown in sales of products related to semiconductors and construction equipment, despite signs of bottoming out in the domestic market amid prolonged hesitance to make capital expenditures. Among the overseas markets, there was a decrease in the wait-and-see attitude in the Americas caused by the US tariff policy and sales of medical-related products remained strong, resulting in revenue growth. In Europe, sales of medical-related products remained steady and sales of Miyano-brand watches increased, which resulted in revenue growth. Revenue grew also in Asia, in which sales of products for China grew and those for India remained strong.

As a result, while net sales from the Machine Tools segment as a whole increased to 38.5 billion yen (up 3.0% year on year), operating profit decreased to 2.6 billion yen (down 12.0% year on year) due to the market mix impact.

Devices and Components

Sales of automotive components increased thanks to progress in the normalization of domestic automakers' production. Sales in the US and China remained particularly strong. This resulted in revenue growth. Sales of small motors fell due to sluggish sales owing to the sense of future uncertainty in the market. Among ceramics, sales increased, particularly sales of submount products for optical communication, resulting in revenue growth. Sales of printers decreased in reaction to large orders for photo printers received in the same period of the previous year, despite steady sales of POS printers and barcode printers particularly in Japan and Europe.

As a result, net sales for the Devices and Components segment as a whole decreased to 31.3 billion yen (down 6.0% year on year) and operating profit decreased to 1.6 billion yen (down 41.8% year on year).

(2) Overview of Financial Position for the Six Months Ended September 30, 2025

As of the end of the interim consolidated accounting period under review, total assets had increased by 15.6 billion yen from the end of the previous consolidated fiscal year, to 431.2 billion yen. Current assets increased by 12.8 billion yen, principally due to 4.8 billion yen increase in notes and accounts receivable - trade and 8.0 billion yen increase in inventories. Non-current assets increased 2.8 billion yen, mainly reflecting an increase of 4.7 billion yen in property, plant and equipment despite a decrease of 3.4 billion yen in investment securities.

Liabilities had increased by 8.2 billion yen from the end of the previous consolidated fiscal year, to 159.6 billion yen. This was mainly due to an increase of 3.6 billion yen in notes and accounts payable - trade.

Net assets increased by 7.4 billion yen from the end of the previous consolidated fiscal year, to 271.6 billion yen, chiefly reflecting an increase of 6.3 billion yen in retained earnings.

(3) Explanation of the Consolidated Earnings Projections and Other Forecasts

A strong sense of uncertainty remains regarding the future economic outlook, chiefly due to a global increase in the cost of living and prolonged uncertainty in the business environment putting pressure on corporate earnings.

In the Group's mainstay Watches business, strong sales of finished CITIZEN and BULOVA brand watches exceeded targets in primarily the North American market. Factors such as growth in in-house e-commerce and a rise in unit selling prices also contributed to sales, and profitability increased significantly. Sales of movements, led by mechanical movements, also remained solid. The Machine Tools segment turned a profit thanks to a moderate sales recovery while the business maintained its cautious stance on capital expenditures.

Taking the above factors into account, the Company has revised its forecasts for full-year overall financial results and those for full-year financial results by business segment as follows.

The foreign exchange rates in the third quarter of the fiscal year under review and thereafter are assumed to be 145 yen against the U.S. dollar and 170 yen against the euro.

*• Tariffs, etc. for past years and amount transferred to provisions for tariffs, etc. for past years Citizen Watch Company of America Inc. ("CWUS"), a consolidated subsidiary of the Company, was notified by the U.S. Customs and Border Protection, an agency of the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, ("the U.S. authorities") that the amount of tariffs paid was insufficient due to differences in the method of calculating the amount payable. In response, CWUS submitted a written refutation and taken other actions. Subsequently, the U.S. authorities indicated that CWUS's claim was unacceptable, and CWUS was charged tariffs on CITIZEN brand watches in September 2025 and other brand watches in October 2025 for the period between 2018 and 2021. CWUS posted 2,678 million yen, the total amount of tariff payment, as custom duties for prior periods as an extraordinary loss. CWUS also paid part of the amount in the form of installment payment. The filing of a CWUS was also notified in August 2021 by the U.S. authorities that the amount of tariffs paid for the period between 2015 and 2018 based on similar considerations as in the above period was insufficient. In response, CWUS has submitted a written refutation and taken other actions. In connection with the notification, CWUS has recorded 3,532 million yen, the amount of tariffs, etc. that may be posted in the future, as a provision for custom duties for prior periods under extraordinary losses.

Although there is a possibility of incurring losses for the period after 2021, it is difficult to make a rational estimate of losses at this time and no allowance for such losses has been posted.

3. Matters regarding changes in reporting segments

The Group's reportable segments have been Watches, Machine Tools, Devices and Components, and Electronic and Other Products. Beginning the first six months of the fiscal year under review, the Group has reorganized its reportable segments into Watches, Machine Tools, and Devices and Components in an effort to optimize its business portfolio and operate appropriate management while focusing on raising profit margin and capital efficiency under the new Medium-term Management Plan.

Through this change, major businesses previously included in the Electronic and Other Products segment have been integrated into Devices and Components and other businesses have been included in Watches. No changes have been made to the Machine Tools segment.

The segment information for the first six months of the previous fiscal year has been restated based on the new reportable segments.

Each segment and its major products are as shown below.

Segment	Major products
Watches	Watches, Movements
Machine Tools	CNC automatic lathes
Devices and Components	Auto parts, Ceramics, Crystal devices, Small motors, Printers, Health care equipment, Chip LEDs
